Robiscopellets

Robiscopellets is a dried animal feed with ingredients that come from industrial bakeries and the candy industry. Robiscopellets mainly consists of all types of cookie products. Robiscopellets also contains candy supplemented with starch from grain and potatoes and a small quantity of sugars, maltodextrins and peanut products. Immediately after the baking process, return flows from industrial bakeries are collected through a unique and high-quality storage system. Subsequently, the product is dried, grinded and made into pellets through a specialised GMP+-recognised processing company. Therefore Robiscopellets distinguishes itself as a fully preprocessed tasty starch product with a high energy value.
